

The Santa Rosa Plateau Ecological Reserve will be hosting its
Eleventh Annual Art and Education Exhibition

"Revealing the Unseen - Artistic Views of a Protected Landscape"

Opening Night
Saturday, July 12, 2008
7:00 - 9:00 PM

An Ecological Reserve is a conservation area of outstanding recreational and scientific value. While many of its protected acres are open to public use, others are restricted for scientific study. These special research areas of the Santa Rosa Plateau Ecological Reserve are the focus of this year's exhibition. Join us as we celebrate the Plateau's unique landscape through art and learn of the purpose and importance of its biologically rich research areas.

Artwork will remain on exhibit through September 21, 2008

Visitor Center is four miles west of Interstate 15
@
39400 Clinton Keith Road
Murrieta, CA 92562

Percentage of art show sales to benefit the Reserve's Outdoor Education Program

Photo by thomaskelsey.com

